SMALL SUPPLY OF COAL IN MARYVILLE

LIGHT COMPANY PUTTING IN AN OIL BURNER.

EVERHART BURNING WOOD

Only Threshing Coal and Small Orders for Immediate Domestic Use Being Supplied.

Maryville is practically without a coal supply, other than what is on the ground here now and this supply is gradually being depleted. Only small orders for immediate domestic use and for threshing engines is being sold to consumers and the supply for the industries is rather small.

The Maryville Electric Light & Power Company has only thirty days' supply. C. C. Hellmers, manager, is having an oil burner installed under one of the boilers and has oil burning equipment for another of them. He said this morning that boilers being equipped now will be ready to heat with oil by Monday or Tuesday.

The drawback to using oil at the light company is that the storage capacity is small. Mr. Hellmers said should all three of the boilers be equipped to burn oil it would not be possible to store more than enough for a week's supply. He said also that it costs considerably more to run the plant with oil than it does to run it with coal, owing to the freight rate.

The oil burning equipment at the plant is some that was purchased during the last coal strike. It take a lot of work to change from coal to oil at the plant, since the stokers must be removed and some of the brick work rebuilt.

William Everhart has cut down his consumption of coal by using wood and says that he has the coal strikers "faded." Mr. Everhart has 300 or 400 cords of wood at different places about over the county and has found by using about a half ton of coal a day in his boilers at the light plant he can get along on wood. He has sufficient supply of coal to carry on this way indefinitely and is furnishing all the threshing coal that is wanted and some for domestic use. He has burned a large portion of the wood that he had stored at his plant and says that he will probably put on some teams within the next few days to begin bringing in the wood from about over the county.

Glover & Alexander have some coal at their yard and are supplying all who want threshing coal and are filling some small orders for domestic use.

The J. H. Gray Coal Company has been out of coal for some time. Only orders for fall delivery are being taken.

The Shoemaker-Bovard Company is the only dealer in town who says coal can be obtained. It was said this morning at the office that coal could be obtained in Kentucky, Arkansas, Colorado and perhaps in Kansas, but that the price is high. Shoemaker-Bovard have a small supply of coal on hands and are filling orders for threshing coal and for the small domestic use.

None of the dealers are supplying coal for winter use.

The coal shortage is not effecting the city at its pumping station at the One Hundred and Two River. May 15 the city connected its pumps with motors driven by current from the electric company and no coal has been used since that time. A small supply is kept at the plant for use in case of an emergency.

"Uncle Star Carmichael, who celebrated his 85th birthday yesterday.

E. G. Orear composed the following poem for Mr. Carmichael:

"You do me wrong who say I come no more,
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake to rise and fight and win.

Wail not for precious chances passed away,
Wail not for Golden Ages on the wane;
Each night I burn the records of the day;
At sunrise every soul is born again.

Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment yet to come.

Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep,
I lend my arm to all who say I CAN.
No shame-faced outcast ever sank so deep,
But yet may rise and be again a MAN."

Mr. Carmichael was born July 21, 1837, in Indiana and came to Maryville in 1860. He was married August 21, 1856. For the past year or so Mr. Carmichael has been making his home in Pickering.

Dr. Claude P. Fryer Says Response to the Work Has Been Good.

* It is especially important that *

* P. Fryer, health officer, pointed * * out this morning. Many times *
* the children who do not advance *
* as fast during the first year of *

Dr. Fryer said this morning that the people in the county had been very responsive to the work which he and Miss Margaret Scully and Mrs. Grace Behn, county health nurses, have done during the summer months in the way of holding clinics in the various towns for babies and pre-school children.

Monday they start over their schedule of the county for the last time before they begin their work with the school children this fall. It takes three weeks to complete the trips to the different towns of the county and they are anxious that every mother in these towns, who have not taken advantage of these clinics for their babies, to bring them to the last clinic.

These clinics are conducted in the different towns without cost to the parents. It gives them the opportunity to have their child weighed, measured and examined by a physician. The most common defects which are found and corrected are eyes, tonsils, defective hearing, adenoids, and underweight. Sometimes it is found that faulty hearing is due to diseased tonsils which could easily be corrected.

The schedule for the last three weeks of clinics, beginning Monday, July 24, and ending August 12, is:

Hopkins—Monday, July 24, at the school building.

Barnard—Tuesday, July 25, at the Farmers Bank.

GOVERNMENT COAL POOL CONSIDERED

TO BE TAKEN UP AT MEETING AT WASHINGTON MONDAY

TROOPS ON REQUEST

Will not be Sent Unless Governor Asks for Them and Is Willing That They be Sent

Washington, July 22—The government plan of pooling the coal in the mine districts and distribution cars to carry the fuel is to be considered at a confercene of the coal operators called at Washington Monday. Secretary Hoover announced today.

The call has been issued for the districts representatives of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Washington, July 22.—Caution which the government will observe in sending federal troops into the coal strike areas was further emphasized in the official announcement that the troops won't be sent at the request of individual companies and operators, but only at the request and consent of the governors of the states.

Springfield, Ill., July 22—Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners union, declared willingness to meet Acting Governor Sterling on the strike situation. He refused to discuss the probability of a meeting of the operators and miners of the state, in which officials have declared a hope of a seperate agreement.

Springfield, Mo., July 22.—Governor Len Small will inspect state troops at Camp Grant and Camp Custer next week. Acting Governor Sterling will return next week for a conference with Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, regarding the coal situation.

MOTIVE POWER SITUATION ON RAILROADS SERIOUS SOON

Strike Enters on Fourth Week With Peace Apparently Still Remote

Washington, July 22 —The motive power of the railroads of the country will be seriously if not completely paralyzed before long if the strike of the shopcrafts continue, it was stated officially. The locomotives were stated would be unfit for travel by the middle of August.

Chicago, July 22.—The rail strike entered the fourth week with prospects of peace remote. The chief hope is in the peace conference with Hooper, labor board president. Both sides are apparently unyielding. Jewell, head of the strikers, refuses to sanction separate agreements and declared only a national settlement is possible.

Jefferson City, July 22.—The 203rd artillery regiment of the anti-aircraft was ordered to entrain for Macon preparatory to possible service in the rail and coal strikes. Macon is a point of easy dispatch either to Hannibal and Moberly, both strike centers. The troops will move from Nevada, where they have been in annual encampment.

PROMOTING CLASS FEELING.

One of the most unfortunate phases of politics in many communities, is the tendency for people to line up on close divisions. This class spirit has no place in American life, but it seems to be an outgrowth largely of the bolshevistic propaganda which has spread all over the world, and apparently originated with the soviet fanatics of Russia.

It happens in some places that the leading business men will promote some kind of a progressive movement or effort for better conditions. Then some others will seem inclined to antagonize it, just because these men started it. They claim it is a class movement for the benefit of some preferred classes. If that idea gets started it is likely to kill it. Then the politicians who promoted the opposition will claim to be the defenders of the people, when all they have really done is to block a progressive movement that would have been for the benefit of everybody.

Business men sometimes make an opening for that spirit, by a failure to make it apparent that they are working for the good of all elements in the community. If they argue that certain things should be done for the benefit of the large taxpayers, or certain men should be elected in an effort to secure better business government, they may give the impression that they are running a kind of class movement.

Their plans and campaigns and candidacies to avoid misconception, must consider the needs and rights of the poor and struggling people quite as much as those of wealth. They must see that the interest of the small taxpayer is protected and considered. It is fatal to progress to have class conflicts and people who desire community advancement should take the greatest pains to see that they are promoting the welfare of all elements.

How many would like to return to the good old days, celluloid collars, long whiskers and everything?

The love of Senator Stanley for Senator Reed seems to be as strong and fragrant as a Kentucky mint julep.

One thing may be said in favor of the nickel. It isn't as valuable as the dime, but it goes to church much oftener.

Now is a good time to think of frost, icebergs, snow, skating parties and a few thinks like that. It will help to keep you cool and satisfied with summer weather.

There are 13,500,000 autos in the world and 10,500,000 of them are in the United States. This accounts for a great deal of the high cost of living. Last month the auto factories in this country alone turned out 271,000 cars. At this rate the American people buy more cars in a year than there are in all other countries of the world combined.

That the seasons have changed greatly and perhaps many times is evidenced by conditions in Alaska. Luxuriant vegetation including ferns and palmlike plants once grew there and the coal beds disclose fossil remains of many tropical plants which grow only in warm climates.

The proposal in the contsitutional convention to increase the pay of members of the legislature to ten dollars per day is all right. To expect a good man to neglect his business, pay his railroad fare, hotel expenses and serve the state for less than that amount in these times is all wrong. The companion proposal however, to limit the regular sessions of the legislature to sixty days instead of seventy days is wrong. The greatest difficulty with the legislature now is that it does not have time to do its work well and carefully in the sessions as now limited. For positions that pay so little, there is naturally a great deal of raw material on hand at the beginning of every session and some of it is exceedingly raw. Men can not become accustomed to legislative ways and make any careful study of the numerous measures presented in two months and naturally are at the mercy of the few skilled and experienced ones, who may be there. These few are frequently the agents of influences antagonistic to the public welfare. Good legislative work, like any other kind of work, requires time and reasonable renumeration.

NOT QUITE "KANSAS AND BUSTED" SAYS TOURISTS

But Guy Crammer of Ottawa, Kan., Says His Section Was Hit Hard By Chinch Bugs

Guy Crammer of Ottawa, Kan., who with his wife and children, Kaurnies, Arlene and Vieva, drove into the Tourist Park yesterday evening to spend the night, said that with him it was not quite a case of "Kansas and Busted" but that his section of the country had been hit pretty hard this year by chinch bugs and that the wheat was yielding only from three to nine bushels an acre.

The Crammers were on their way to Prescott, Ia., to visit relatives. They were traveling in a Ford motor car and had had some cartrouble. Mr. Crammer said the road between Leavenworth and Atchison is being hard surfaced and that it is necessary to make a detour for some distance. The detour is hilly and causes tourists considerable trouble.

Mr. Crammer said they had planned on passing the night in the vicinity of Bolckow, owing to the condition of their car, but they heard of the good camping facilities here at the Tourists Park and decided to come on in regardless.

Other new names appearing on the register at the park last night were Robert G. Cousins, Los Angeles, Cal.; A. H. and Mrs. T. P. Goodrich, Sargent Neb.; G. S. Rose, Seattle, Wash.; Anna E. Sturgeon, Everett, Wash., and Delwyn Rose, Seattle, Wash.

Some of the tourists noted with their names that the tourists park here was the best they had seen. Others said that it was equaled only by the ones at Boulder and Ft. Collins, Colo.

Mrs. O. T. Loyd and Robert Miller of Chilo, Cal., and Mrs. W. H. Stocker of Omaha. "A very pretty camping grounds. Glad to have been here," they remark.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bergstrom, Mrs. Mary Barnes, Audrey and Lavern Heidorn, Elda Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Gladwell, all of Lexington, Mo. They are on their way to Montrose, Ia. "Your camping ground is beautiful," they write.

HUSBAND DESERTS MRS. GOLDA MANLEY OF B. J

Clipping From Wichita Paper Tells of Experience of Former Resident.

(Burlington Junction Post).

The following clipping from the Wichita (Kansas) Eagle of June 26 tells of the misfortune of Mrs. R. W. Manley, formerly Miss Golda Woods of this place, who was married in St. Joseph a few months ago:

One day last winter while Mrs. Golda Manley, then bearing her parents' name, was preparing for graduation from a St. Joseph, Missouri, nurses' training school, she received a massive boquet of flowers, bearing the compliments of 'California.' A day later she met the sender, Robert W. Manley, a dignified appearing man, 18 years her senior.

She loved him at first sight, she revealed at the court house, Monday, just after she had sworn to a complaint charging him with wife desertion. He has disappeared, she charges, after using her money and leaving her less than $2.

On February 19, last, Mrs. Manley says, they were married, after two months of courtship. She would have graduated from the nurses' school she had been attending in two more months she said, had not her ardent wooer painted landscapes of happiness that lured her to the marital altar.

Soon after their marriage, according to Clyde Hudson, Mrs. Manley's attorney, the couple came to Wichita. Manley had represented to his prospective bride that he was a stock broker. Arriving here he established offices at 408 Bitting building. On the door appears the lettering: Oil Property and Leases.

Mrs. Manley says he used her allowance from home and then insisted on drawing upon her grandparents' account at Burlington Junction, Mo. One draft for $60 was honored, but a second for $100 was protested. This one, according to a letter exhibited by Mrs. Manley, is held by the Fourth National Bank of Wichita. It had been realized upon by Manley, after he presented it bearing the endorsement of Thomas Thompson, a local broker.

Manley has disappeared, leaving the Fourth National Bank, or Thompson, holding the sack, Mr. Hudson says. Likewise, he is leaving two bondsmen in the hole for $500 each, one bond having been given a week ago Saturday, to secure his release after being arrested, charged with driving a car while drunk. The second was last Thursday, when he was arrested in company with a woman, charged with a similar offense. Mrs. Manley says that he represented to her that he is a half brother to Chas. T. Manley, of the Manley Magna Stone company of Kansas City.

Miss Ora Eckles went to St. Joseph yesterday to spend the week end with Miss Grace McAnulty.

YEZZIR!

A large number of hens have been culled out of the poultry flocks of Nodaway county during the past two years Roy A. Kinnaird, county farm agent, said this morning. About 250 poultry culling demonstrations have been held during the two years that interest has been taken in this phase of poultry and in these demonstrations about 12,000 or 13,000 hens have been discarded each year.

So many demonstrations have been held in the county, Mr. Kinnaird said, that it was not necessary to hold very many this fall. Some applications have come into the farm bureau office already this year for poultry culling demonstrations this fall but they will be held only in the communities of the county where they have not been held during the past two years.

This work is usually done during the last part of August or the first of September when the hens begin to quit laying.

Culling at this time weeds out the lazy hens and feeding of non-productive hens is eliminated. Usually, about 40 per cent of hens are culled out of flocks during a demonstration and about the same number of eggs are gathered from the hens as before the culling.

There is another culling which is conducted in early spring for the selection of breed pens. At this time culling is, of those hens which show disqualifications for breeding. Purebred hens are chosen and mated with cockerels from a breeding pen.

Forumettes

It is not our position
But rather our disposition
Which makes us happy
Or unhappy as the case may be.

From what we see on Maryville streets these days the saying "Pitty the poor blind man" has unusual significance.

The wise man buys his fish with good hard cash and lets tho other Maryville fisherman do the lying.

The unskilled dentist spares no pains in his wark.

Have you ever discovered a faster thing than getting in trouble?

Uncle Abner says the average man can see trouble twice the distance he can see joy.

A modern fairy tale, once there was a man who retained all his friends when he was in trouble and some of them even came to him and told him to draw on them for any sum needed to tide him over his difficulty.

There are some men who dine at home so seldom that when they do they look for the menu and feel under the table to see if some one has not parked his gum there where it would attach itself to his trouser leg.

Louise, the stenographer, says that although she is fond of bargains she never looks twice at a cheap man.

As they see motorcycles with side cars whiz along the streets many old timers sigh as they think of the tandem bicycle days when they used to do the same thing with some pretty girl in bloomers on the rear seat.

Fine feathers do not make fine birds, but just ask some Maryville husband if they do not make expensive hats.

There is no meaner man to be found these modern days than the one who will steal his best girl's last package of cigarets.

While women generally are wearing hair nets these days, the average baldheaded man would like to wear some kind of a fly net.

A Maryville woman who was married recently had a friend buy a rolling pin for her she was afraid people would think she and her husband did not get along if she made the purchase herself.

Vagrant Musings

A lot of the talk we hear these days may be classed as hot air.

The possession of skill is worthless unless the individual will apply it.

The average man not only wastes his own time but that of others he meets.

It takes the father of a bright son to be a believer in heredity.

Goodrich
announces new tire prices
—lowest cost mileage ever known

Effective July 20th, Goodrich establishes a revised price list that is a base line of tire value. It gives the motorist the buying advantage of knowing that whatever size tire he selects is of the same quality—the Goodrich one-quality standard. It gives him the longest mileage, the most satisfactory service and the highest quality his money can buy. Results will prove that it is impossible to buy tire mileage at lower cost.

Think of being able to buy

DR. EAGLE HAS DESIGN FOR STOCK CHUTE

Is on Exhibit at Health Department For Those Who Are to Have Tests Made

Dr. T. J. Eagle has made and placed at the office of the Nodaway County Health Department in the Tribune building a miniature cattle chute for the purpose of giving cattle the tuberculin test. Anyone desiring to get ready for the tests can see the chute at the office and get the idea as to how it is made.

The chute is made so that it sets at the door of a barn at right angles to the building. One side touches the barn and the other is built so that it is the distance of the width of the door of the barn away. When the door of the barn is opened the other side is filled by the door and the animal walks out into the chute. A pole is slipped through back of her and when she puts her head through the station she is caught. When the treatment has been applied the station bar is removed and the animal walks out the front of the chute.

Dr. Eagle has designed the chute so that it will answer for various purposes on the farm. If it is made portable it can be moved from place to place and used in making the tests. It can even be so made that it may be used as a chute for loading hogs in a wagon or for dehorning cattle.

The dimensions of the chute are 12 feet on one side, 8 feet on the other side, 5 feet high and 28 inches wide.

A circular letter is being prepared for those who are to have testing done.

XENIA COMMUNITY FARMERS START FILM SUBSCRIPTION

Are Much Interested in Sending Them to Sedalia to be Shown at the State Fair.

While farmers are busy threshing in the Xenia community they are alert to the value of having Nodaway county agriculture films sent to the State Fair at Sedalia, and have already started a subscription which will be completed and sent in some time next week.

W. W. Alexander said, "I think it a fine plan and should do Nodaway county a lot of good and of course what benefits Nodaway county, benefits every one in the county. I shall be glad to contribute to help send the film to state fair."

Geo. McArthur said, "That looks like a capital idea and I will be glad to help with a subscription from Xenia and I think the people of Missouri will be surprised when they see the Nodaway county films as will also the people from outside of the state."

John Davis said, "The boys around Xenia always see to it that anything worth while is properly backed and while every one is busy threshing and the rains have slowed things up, the boys will take the matter up at once and help with this propect to send the films to the State Fair. It's a fine idea."

Whole State Prayed For Rain Twenty One Years Ago Friday

Friday, the 21st day of July was the anniversary of an unusual event that occurred in Missouri in 1901, the "dry year." It was Governor Dockery's official call upon the people of the state to meet at their respective places of worship on Sunday, July 21, and pray that the calamity of a great drouth might be averted.

The move was started at Macon by the Rev. George W. Sharp, who secured numerous signers to a petition which was forwarded to Governor Dockery. Following this there was general commendation of the move by religious bodies throughout the state and the governor issued the official proclamation in accordance with the petition.

At the time of the crusade Missouri crops were in a bad way. Corn was shriveling up, ponds had run dry and there was but little water in the streams. Farmers were rushing their stock to other states and paying high prices for water and pasturage. Old times said it was the hottest and dryest year since 1875, during the grasshopper plague, when Governor Hardin issued a call for general prayers. During that year the grasshoppers were also working havoc. The Rev. Mr. Sharp stated that Governor Hardin's proclamation for prayer met prompt response by showers that drove the grasshoppers away and brought the dying crops back to life.

The result of Governor Dockery's proclamation, however was not so effective. The record shows that during the month of July, 1901, the moisture was only .8 of an inch and that in August there was practically no rain at all. With the exception of one downpour on the 10th of September that month was also dry. The record at Macon showed that on July 12 and 24 the thermometer reached 111 degrees, the highest record since the official records were made here. Crops were a failure. The farmers lost heavily on their cattle and hogs. On some farms wells were chained so people could not slip in and pump water.

Some good people explained that the reason for the failure of Providence to answer the appeals made on the official prayer day was because Governor Dockery had neglected to enjoin fasting as well as prayer. Another reason was that his prayer day was fixed for Sunday, when the prayers could be made without sacrifice of any time from work; that a week day should have been selected so that the people could show their faith by abandoning industry for a day and devoting it to prayers to avert the calamity.

According to the records there were three great drouths in Missouri, one in 1854, one in 1875 and one in 1901. These were years when practically no rain fell during the summer months. While the drouth was on in 1901 the head of a college made a number of speeches over the state, telling the farmers that the drouth was the result of cutting down the forests and that until reforestration took place there never would be sufficient moisture in Missouri to develop the crops properly.—Macon Chronicle-Herald.

DODGE BROTHERS COUPE

You will realize, the moment you see this coupe, how perfectly it fulfills a very real need.

It was designed and built by Dodge Brothers in response to that need—long-standing and often-expressed by people in all parts of the world.

With Dodge Brothers chassis as a starting point, it only remained to create a coupe body which would unite the usual coupe refinements with greater lightness, hardihood and economy.

The world now knows how this was accomplished. An entirely new precedent in closed car construction was established. The body is built of steel.

Moreover, the deep comfortable seat is upholstered in genuine leather. The doors are exceptionally wide. The rear compartment will hold a small steamer trunk and other luggage. The enamel, baked on the steel at high temperature is readily restored, after hard usage, to its original lustre.

In every detail the car reflects the purpose of the builders—to make it a practical car of universal appeal.

SOME OF PIGS OF CLUB ARE DOING EXCEEDINGLY WELL

A Lot of the Boys and Girls Have Had Hard Luck, However, and Have Lost Pigs.

About three-fourths of the members of the Pig Club have been visited by Roy A. Kinnaird, county farm agent, during the past week. He says that a lot of the boys and girls have had bad luck with their pigs this year and that a good many of the sows lost their pigs. Some of the pigs, however, are doing exceedingly well.

Mr. Kinnaird visited twelve of the pig club members yesterday. They were: Earl Evans, near Maryville, who has a Duroc Jersey pig; Arthur and Ernest Hartman, west of Barnard, who have Poland-China pigs; Dorman and Lorice Cotter, near Barnard, who have Chester White pigs; Ernest and Maynard Oliver, east of Guilford, and Elizabeth Davis, southeast of Arkoe, who have Poland-China pigs.

Elsie and Pearl Wright, southeast of Maryville, who have Chester White pigs, and Bobby Wright, who has a Tamworth pig; Abeline Pixler and Doris Yonke, southeast of Maryville, who have Hampshire pigs.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Clayton and children, Marguerite and Kenneth of Washington, D. C., who have been visiting for the last two weeks with Mr. Clayton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clayton and Mrs. Louella Landfather, left this morning for Des Moines, Iowa where they will visit Mrs. Clayton's parents for two weeks before returning to their home.

Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Leave

Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Clayton and daughter, Marguerite, and son, Kenneth, who have been the guests of Dr. Clayton's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clayton, and other relatives left this morning for Des Moines. At Des Moines they will visit Mrs. Clayton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Carpenter, for ten days, after which they will return to Washington, D. C.

Henry and Albert Hubbard of Barnard were transacting business in Maryville yesterday.

THE AUTOMOGASOLINE BUG.

There's a microbe or insect infesting
the land,
And has been for seventeen years,
The scientist's fail to get next to its curves,
Or stop its increase it appears.
It seems that when once it gets under the hide,
It stays there secure and so snug,
That nothing yet found ever gets the thing out,
It's the Automogasoline bug.

It seems that this bug is so hard to dislodge,
So fatal it is in results,
The only real hope of resisting it is,
It tackles the heads of adults.
If you feel something itching up under your hat,
That you can not handle or jug,
You can make up your mind in a minute or two,
Its the Automogasoline bug.

It seems that it always begins in the spring,
And gets more severe up in June,
July, May and August are also bad
months,
And only a few are immune.
When this little microbe starts working on one,
They will mortgage house, lot and rug,
To satisfy gnawings of this little pest,
Called the Automogasoline bug.

There's only one thing that has ever been found,
That will stop the things itching, so far,
Its to go put a plaster on your good old farm.
And buy you some kind of a car.
A little tin Lizzie will stop it on some,
And cause smiles to spread o'er their mug,
While others must have a bran new limosine,
For this Automogasoline bug.

Some folks seem to think they can ride
all the way,
Right up to old St Peters gate,
If they have a dandy four cylinder car,
While others would choose a big eight.
Some times as I watch all these people go by,
I fall in my old chair "kerchug,"
When I think what would happen if old "Jerry" got,
This Automogasoline Bug.

—"JERRY."

PEOPLE OF GARRETT SCHOOL ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT

Every Patron of Four Districts Represented—Credit Is Due the Patrons

Every patron in four districts who has a child in the Garrett Demonstration School, three and a half miles southwest of Maryville, was represented at a party held at the school last night. The lawn was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns and there were garden seats and chairs and the children and grown up folks played games. The children did folk dancing.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream, and cake were served. The ice cream was home-made and some Maryville people who were there say it was simply fine. People attending the picnic say that they had the best time they have had on a picnic for a long time.

A representative of the State Teachers College said this morning that the College has been getting too much credit for the Demonstration School. She said that it is due to the interest and co-operation of the directors of the Garrett School and the other patrons of the district that it is possible to have the demonstration school at all. The directors are R. C. New, J. F. Suetterlin and Charles Wells. She said that the spirit shown by the people of the Garrett District in the conducting of the school is most remarkable.

Men of America Improving in Their Manners

Long ago, a then venerable writer, "Grace Greenwood," found a depressing contrast between the manners of young men in Europe and in the United States: "To enter a room in which were young gentlemen acquaintances sitting, or lounging, and not have them rise had become a strange experience for me. I have since become used to such a lack of courtesy, that should I now see a young American spring to his feet with European politeness on my entering a room, I should be startled and half believe that he had inadvertently just 'sat down on the cat!' "

A noticeable improvement appears to have taken place since the foregoing criticism was written. A man or boy with any social knowledge does not remain seated when a woman visitor enters the room, nor does he keep his back turned, nor smoke without asking permission.

Protective Tariff Writes Letter To The Voters Of Missouri

(By Mrs. F. A. Bush)

Down here in Washington, D. C., I've been having the time of my life and the end is not yet. To some of these people here I look like Mohammet's mountain, to others I am a mere drop in this big revenue system of ours and I'm wondering how I look to all you quiet law abiding citizens out there in Missouri?

Some think I'm the biggest boon to this country you ever heard of while a lot of others just hate me and wish I'd get the sleeping bug.

It's awful to be in such a predicament, so I plan to visit you all and get your sentiments in the November election, then flourish or die. I've been here off and on, under my present alias since 1812 and enjoy the distinction of having been fostered and fought by the best statesmen, yet I live.

You can see I've had my ups and downs in life, but through them all I've kept my individuality.

My advocates are found in great numbers many of them perhaps led to adore me for the character my name indicates, especially among the effeminate. My sponsors believe I can be used to great advantage on many things, such as safety pins, cotton goods, crockery, and so many things you'd be tired reading should I name them all to you. When wheat went down, my friends thought me the remedy for that illness, and got me to help them to keep out all our neighbor's wheat, just like a small pox sign!

Maybe that was right, but I don't know, do you?

Many think I can be used in such a way as to give our laboring men work, to get more money to buy more goods to make our factories buy more supplies to make more materials to give our men more work. That's what you all want, but will I do it, maybe so but I don't know.

My opponents see in me an enemy to what they deem the best welfare of our country. If I am allowed to patrol our pork against invasion of foreign supplies so successfully that the invader turns to other fields, think you I've done well? Maybe so, but I don't know. You will then not have to compete with foreign markets that are putting out goods cheaper than you think you can, but you can buy from our own at their own price, and if you think that'll be the best they can give you, remember the, well you know.

It's time that home demand may open your factories, and give a full dinner pail and you'll all be happy. But suppose some sunny morn you awaken to find your home markets inadequate to handle your out put and you seek foreign markets. You may find all of them lined up with their noses in the air and their need supplied by less protected countries. It has been effectually used that weapon called boy cott and you couldn't blame the poor alien could you?

That's what I call frankness, telling you my faults too.

I used to be called plain revenue, and I did a lot of protecting then, but when they added protective to me, there was and is grave danger of overworking me to your sorrow and loss.

Competition is said to be the life of trade, means the life of a nation. If I am used to kill that competition, what then? Just what is in store for men in the near future no one can tell, but I'm worthy of your earnest consideration, and I solicit your most careful study on the part of all who are interested in the welfare of our country for by you my destiny shall be guided.

Yours truly,
Protective Tariff, alias,
Business Undertaker.

WORK RESUMED AT 102 RIVER YESTERDAY

Recent Rains Brought Down a Lot of Gravel Which May Cause Pump Troubles

Work was resumed yesterday on the One Hundred and Two river to get the new dam finished. The carload of rock which arrived to make the fill on the east side of the dam is being unloaded and taken to the river.

In order to get the rock to the dam it was necessary to make a corduroy road over the old channel of the river. An incline was made from the road to the wash near the dam.

The high waters of One Hundred and Two River last spring brought down a large amount of sand which gave a lot of trouble with the pumps of the city water department. The recent high water brought down considerable gravel. This has not given any trouble with the pumps yet but it is thought that it might.
